THE ORION

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR
CLASS OF 1950
WOODROW WILSON HIGH SCHOOL
YOUNGSTOWN . . . OHIO
VOLUME XII

Forword

The nineteen-fifty "Orion" presents a pictorial review of school life at Wilson. We, the classes of 1950, hope the Orion shall be a nostalgic reminder of the happy days of work and play spent in school.

Now that graduation day has come, we look back upon our five years at Wilson with mixed emotions—proud that we have attained a standard of scholarship meriting graduation, happy that we have many fond memories and fine friendships, sad because we are leaving these many happy associations, hopeful that we may find and successfully accomplish our duty in the world.

On entering Wilson as eighth graders we were overwhelmed by the avalanche of students rushing to and fro in the halls. Soon we became familiar with the routine of school and gradually fitted into our places with the others.

Now that we have completed our high school years, we are going on to claim greater achievements. The friendships made in school will help us face the world with greater assurance. May this book be a medium of continuing through adult life the friendships begun at Wilson.

It is a real pleasure for me to extend through the medium of your Annual my heartiest greeting to the teachers and students of Woodrow Wilson High School. I congratulate the editorial staff and the sponsors of the Orion in presenting a pictorial review of life at Woodrow Wilson. The pictures of your teachers, your classmates, and your school activities will bring fond memories that will give great happiness. You will find life has a way of making you forget unpleasant experiences and of making you remember only those which were satisfying.

I hope that this visual review will keep alive your love for your Alma Mater and you will say with genuine sentiment, "The golden haze of student days is round about us yet."

PAUL C. BUNN,

Superintendent of Schools

GEORGE W. GLASGOW Courtesy of Abby Studt

Dear Seniors of January and June, 1950

Soon the years of your life at Wilson will be just a bundle of memories that will grow more precious to you as the years pass. This yearbook that records those happy, carefree years will also grow infinitely more precious with the passing years. It is with sincere pleasure that I compliment you upon this fine book, but there is also a tinge of sadness that I must bid you good-bye and God speed so soon.

Yours as ever

GEORGE W. GLASGOW

Executive Staff

Standing—Mr. Paul Wachter, Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys; Mrs. Alice Weber, Secretary; Mrs. Jean Jenkins, Secretary. Seated—Mr. George W. Glasgow, Principal; Miss Ruth Long, Dean of Girls; Miss Helen Robertson, Guidance Director.

These are persons who so willingly help guide our efforts in the right direction. Miss Long and Mr. Wachter are on hand to discuss our personal problems, while Miss Robertson's duties are centered around educational services. Mr. Glasgow, ever understandingly, acts not only to direct all educational activities, but also to listen sympathetically to each and everyone who wishes advice.

I speak for all seniors in saying we have the finest and most helpful faculty in Youngstown. Our teachers with their informal, friendly attitudes, are most co-operative in helping solve our problems. Likewise, the co-operation between our parents and our teachers is something of which we are justly proud.

Happy incidents will long remain with us—Mr. Houston's antics in the cafeteria and Miss Eckert's providing a chair for eighth graders so they could reach the top row of lockers are a few of the many. Miss Long and Mr. Wachter kept us in the middle of the stream when our frail rafts were drifting onto shoals. Teachers in Home Economics and Distributive Education prepared us to meet adult problems in home life. Miss Robertson was ever willing to advise us in selecting subjects most beneficial to us. Miss Arnold was thinking only of our welfare when she ordered, "Absolutely no talking!"

When we see an English classic, we shall be reminded of the struggle Miss Gracey had teaching The Odyssey and Ivanhoe to the ninth graders. Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Hardie's combined resourcefulness was constantly exercised to make our football and our basketball teams rank high in the city. And—we know it hurt Mr. Barber more than it did us to issue those detention slips.

The teachers in the Metal, Auto, and Wood shops helped our boys to select trades useful after graduation. Miss Zeisler's guidance enabled many girls to make their Easter outfits and their formals for the "Prom." Under Miss Hasting's direction many young artists received their first inspiration to paint. And last, but not least, we give three cheers to our Homeroom teachers who were the best sports of all! ! !

FACULTY MEETING

Frequently Faculty Meetings are held in the Art Room where a spirit of informality prevails. The surroundings, reflecting the mood of each season, create a hospitality not possible in a formal classroom. When the occasion permits, light refreshments are served. This adds a note of informality.

At this particular meeting, beside routine professional business, pupil personality charts were being checked to be filed for future reference.

Although these teachers have no homeroom responsibilities, special duties assigned them require equal time and energy.

Mr. Van Iderstine, besides conducting music classes, directs the choir and ensembles in special assemblies in school, and about town.

Miss Gustavsen instructs her students in Distributive Education both in the class rooms and in their positions in the stores.

The school book store is operated by Mr. Williamson.

The distribution of admission tickets is Miss Ludman's responsibility. She is also the building representative for Associated Hospital Association.

WHEN DAY IS DONE (AT WILSON)

When school begins, at duty's call
We work anew.

When day is done and shadows fall,
We think of you.

When school is done, we think of all
The joys we knew.

CHEMISTRY CLASS

Experiments in chemistry class give students real contacts with science problems. Preparing chemical experiments can be fun too. Remember, John, when what you thought was H_2O was H_2SO_4 ? Or, was that fun?

LIBRARY

The well-filled shelves in our library give ample reading materials for research work or pleasure reading.

AUTO SHOP

A knowledge of the mechanics of any machine makes an intelligent operator. Mr. Ternick points the way to safer driving as he instructs our boys in the proper use and care of their cars.

TYPING CLASS

We are proud of our typists as they take their places in the business world. The combination of personality and intelligence portrayed here promises continued success in Youngstown's business offices.

How about it, girls?

SEWING CLASS

Quite expert in creating that new suit in making over last year's suit, and in finding economic ways of dressing themselves becomingly. What! No zipper, Janet?

Plenty of better husbands in the making in Wilson's Cooking Classes. Listen!

Eugene, "Can you beat it?"

Steve, "Some more of this!"

Joe, "Wait—let me think."

Harold, "Me, too."

Myron, "Now, I have it."

Bill, "Smells good, too."

THE

Senior Classes of 1950

The above students were selected by the Senior Classes for their popularity in classes and activities. Their duties consist of working with the numerous committees which plan the Mothers' Tea, Class Day, ring, commencement, banquet and other senior activities. This is done under the guidance of the advisors.

The advisors worked patiently, never failing to attend to the problems of the seniors which arise daily. The advisors and officers accomplished their purpose together, striving that we, the senior classes, could have a year long to be remembered. Although this meant extra work aside from their studies, they did it faithfully and willingly.

Each officer feels it a great privilege to serve his class in this capacity and fondly remembers his associations with them.

ACTIVITIES

Wilsonians Learn Self-Government

The Executive Committee of our Student Council is the directing body which plans projects, introduces acts to the Council, and executes the plans adopted by the Council. It is composed of the president, the vice-president who is elected by the Council, the treasurer, and the sergeant at-arms, who are chosen by the Council. Another five members are elected from the ranks of the Council to enlarge this governing body to ten members.

Together with the duties outlined above, the Committee must also be ready to thrash out various problems which may arise at the moment, such as our recent magazine drive which provided a large profit for the school, the Junior Red Cross Christmas boxes for families overseas, and countless other projects.

Besides helping the student body of our school, those serving on this committee find excellent opportunities in training for effective leadership.

Student Council

Student Council, as one of the leading organizations of the school, attempts to plan and carry out projects that fall within the area of student participation.

Most of the work accomplished in council is done in committees. This leads to the council members taking an active part. The Program Committee arranges assemblies and has student projects to strengthen our school spirit and talent shows to help discover the abilities of our students. Entertainment outside of assemblies is in the hands of the Social Committee. Our Building and Welfare Committee supervises locker clean-outs and clean-up campaigns. The Care Committee remembers our foreign friends by sending packages to high school students abroad. The Council's talented art students serve on the Publicity Committee.

Aside from committee work, the Council assumes projects as a group. To raise money for the school fund, we stage annual magazine and tax stamp drives. We helped organize the Junior Red Cross campaign to help the less fortunate people of Europe. Once the Council acquaints the student body with real need, there is usually a ready response.

The Student Council helps plan the "Hi-Lights of the Air," which has been received very well by the student body.

Semester after semester the Council attacks new and old projects. The representatives, united under their president, continually try to improve the school. Since Bob Cercone is graduating, his position will pass to Cy Galmish, another able executive, who will lead the Council through another term.

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

As the keystone holds together the perfect arch, so students with scholarship, leadership, character and service, are needed to hold together our world of tomorrow

Scholarship is the foundation for the building. Leadership is the hand that lays the bricks to form the wall. Character is the cement that holds the bricks together and service is the foreman, who sees that the job is finished

Just as the builder tests a brick for strength and size, so students are tested for all the desired qualities before entering the Honor Society. Each semester five per cent of the class is selected by the faculty

Uncertain products, like uncertain qualities, cannot withstand the wear and tear of the years. The students who possess these four qualities stand as a skyscraper on the horizon. Our future is in their hands.

—Douglas Brackenridge

The Junior National Honor Society

THE FLAME OF INSPIRATION

The Junior National Honor Society was first organized in 1936. It was named for the great American educator, Horace Mann. To become eligible for membership, one must have high scholastic standing in the junior high school grades.

The second most important factor that promotes eligibility is personality. Leadership is a trait of a well-developed personality; to obtain this, one must be able to choose right from wrong, have poise, and must be able to think for himself as well as for others.

The emblem of this society is the flaming torch. Symbolized in this emblem are the following aims: to bear forward the searching light of truth, to lead, so that others may follow in that light, to keep burning in our schools a high ambition for the enduring values of life, and to be of service to mankind.

The faculty choose for membership those students who will carry out the four cardinal principles of the Society: Scholarship, Leadership, Character and Service.

THE SERVICE GROUP

"Where can I find the World Almanac?" "Is the nurse in?" Such questions are asked, and answered by students. They assist in the book room, check books in and out of the library. English and social science offices, type, run errands, and work in the clinic. In short they take care of a thousand details which help to make a large school run smoothly.

—Helen Baldea

THE "400" CLUB

In Room 400, at the top of the stairs, are movie operators who are "tops" at Wilson. They operate the moving picture projector so that classes may see movies which enrich their academic work. While students hardly like to miss a class (?) they do enjoy an occasional movie. The Four Hundred Boys are chosen for their willingness to learn and for dependability.

—Bob Bolan

THE CINEMA CLUB

Do you appreciate the fact that Cinema Club members give up part of their lunch period to make yours more enjoyable? Those who see the noon movies appreciate them. The Cinema Club boys, under the direction of Mr. Datson, collect admission fees, adjust curtains, regulate lighting and perform other valuable services. —Dick Smith

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" was given on November 17 and 18. Both students and teachers acclaimed this play as one of the finest and most humorous in the history of Wilson. Two over-exuberant nineteen-year-old girls, Coroelia Skinner (Margie Barber) and Emily Kimbrough (Barbara Aepli) were taking a trip to Paris. Aboard ship the girls met and became interested in two young and handsome medical students, John Hladon and Douglas Brackenridge.

Impersonating Otis Skinner, Dick Van Sice proved quite witty and dramatic. Although overshadowed by her famous husband and daughter, Mrs. Skinner (Jackie Pollock) played her part well.

Those behind the scenes, the stage hands, property men, prompters and the girls who helped with make-up and costumes, all deserve praise. We salute you on a job well done.

Wilson Troupers of 1950

Harold Wells, Dorothy May, Elaine Horvatt

The January Class of 1950 presented a highly entertaining three act comedy, "Now and Forever," on the evening of May 13, 1949. Under the direction of Mr. Judd Yeager, a carefully selected cast performed like veterans. Elaine Horvatt as Aunt Ellen portrayed a character dominated by her brother's family, but, with the help of Minerva, became a human and lovable person with rights of her own. Helen Baldea, the twelve-year-old nuisance, known as Minerva Holloway, finally brought together Aunt Ellen and her one-time sweetheart, Jim Holloway, who was portrayed by Ed Pucci.

Between acts, Gene Wynsen played Gay Ninety piano selections in harmony with the setting of the play.

We wish to commend Mr. Yeager, and the members of the cast; also the production staff who built and painted the scenery and obtained the properties. Through efficient teamwork, the play was a marked success.

Tri Hi-Y

'To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home school and community high standards of Christian character' is the aim of the active Tri-Hi-Y Club

After two years, the club of twenty-one senior high girls has been most successful in all its activities. They range from participating in the hi lighted Civic Day, to sponsoring dances, engaging speakers for discussions, joint swimming with the Hi-Y and holding meetings with clubs of other schools in order to establish new friendships. This year, the club made dolls for the Red Cross which were then presented to the children in various city hospitals

New members are chosen by submitting application blanks. They are then voted into the club and initiated at a special dance held for that purpose

The officers elected for the semester were Eleanor Krajnak, president; Eleanor Timko, vice-president and program chairman; Margie Barber, secretary; and Peg Paglia, treasurer.

We believe that Tri-Hi-Y will prove the basis of many lasting friendships

Eleanor Krajnak

The Orion

The Annual Committee of the Senior Class of 1950 presents the Woodrow Wilson Orion. We have endeavored to review for our alumni and students the many activities, various organizations, and numerous personalities, which make Woodrow Wilson one of the outstanding high schools of Youngstown.

This year the Orion is under the leadership of Miss Gerrity.

"Elaine, are all the write-ups ready to go to the printers?"

You might hear this as you pass 209, where Elaine Horvatt and Marilyn Olson, the resourceful co-editors are working diligently.

Knowing the immense interest that annuals bring to the student body, alumni and friends, we are pleased to present this interpretation of life at Woodrow Wilson.

Come on Red!

Come on White!

Do you hear the roars and cheers as the Wilson band and high stepping majorettes strut down the gridiron? In a sense, the band is the backbone of Wilson. Their colorful uniforms and fine performances given during the football season add greatly to the school spirit.

Our football band began the season by playing at the county preview game at South Stadium. The different formations total approximately forty, with about fifty different musical numbers.

Besides the numerous pep assemblies, the band plays for the Armistice Day program, the annual Spring Festival and June graduation.

Former members of our instrumental department now studying public school music are: Morris Gateman, Miami University; Bob Marsh at Northwestern University on scholarship; George Unger, University of Cincinnati; Harry Ford, Edward Smith, and Esotto Pellegrini of Youngstown College.

Wilson is deeply indebted to Mr. Omeis for his splendid work. He has given freely of his time and skill to build a great Woodrow Wilson Band.

"Hallelujah, Hallelujah," often heard emanating from the music room is a part of just one of the numbers used this year. The Wilson choir, in existence for quite a few years now, can hold its own with the rest of the city high school choral groups. This choir has progressed rapidly since it was reorganized in September by our new musical director, Mr. Van Iderstine.

Included in the agenda this year are a Christmas program, musical background for the Senior Baccalaureate services, a spring concert and other features. Besides "The Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah," other arrangements used in these programs by the group are "Just the Way You Look Tonight," "Carol of the Bells," "Bless This House," "May Now Thy Spirit," and other choice selections.

This choir of ninety persons is just one more reason for the pride we feel in Woodrow Wilson. —Dorothy May

The school appreciates the combined efforts of Mr. Van Iderstine and the Ensembles in presenting these programs.

Sharps and Flats

Mr. William Omeis

During the first few months this fall, our orchestra had only last year's regular members. But as soon as football season ended, new musicians were added from the band, and by January Commencement, there were forty-five members in the orchestra.

The string section is improving both in numbers and in quality. Besides the string orchestra, a violin, cello, and piano trio has been organized. The orchestra played for the Christmas program, January Commencement, and our Spring Music Festival. Numbers featured were the "Hallelujah Chorus" and "Tales from Vienna Woods." Marches, overtures and many other selections were also played.

Orlando DeFabio, our first trumpet player, is now playing with the Youngstown Symphony Orchestra. The outstanding success of the Wilson Orchestra is due to the hard work of our most capable William Omeis, who has made Wilson's orchestra one of the finest in the city.

Youthful Orators

The National Forensic League is a national organization composed of students who have gained recognition through debating. The Wilson chapter, under the coaching of Mr. Barber, has always tried to uphold the ideals of this organization.

To become a member, one must earn a total of twenty points, by debating, by radio work, or by speaking before groups. Selected teams, organized at the beginning of the semester, debate throughout the year.

Membership in the N. F. L. is invaluable to someone intending to continue with speech work. Many outstanding statesmen and lecturers had their training in this organization. Fellow members may be found in all states of the union and perhaps all over the world.

Salesmanship a la Carte

We "cherubs" are fortunate to be members of Miss Gustavsen's Distributive Education class. We spend the morning learning about customers, textiles, and planning field trips. We are now compiling material for merchandise manuals.

At noon, after we eat a hurried lunch and dash downtown, where we are employed by Youngstown merchants, we work from one to five on week days and all day Saturday.

Already this year we have enjoyed many activities with the help of our officers: President, Catherine Dlacich; vice president, Ed Eliser; treasurer, Jim May, and secretary, Edith Giba. Marilyn Gaps and her committee plan our social functions while Jean Silvers and her assistants find ways for us to earn money. Articles for the F.R.O. newspaper are prepared by Donald Beck's committee who work together smoothly.

Our Future Retailers of Ohio held its Convention at Alliance. It was a thrilling experience which we shall not soon forget.

From the time a girl enters high school, she looks forward to membership in a Y-Teen group. To her it means the companionship of girls her own age. The blue triangle, which is their emblem, symbolizes steadfastness, faithfulness, and truthfulness. The purpose of the Y-Teens is to be of service both locally and internationally. By corresponding with girls abroad and by sending gifts, Sorelle Y-Teens help support the program for World Fellowship. Their Christmas pageant featured international good will.

Sorelle activities follow six major program areas: personal relations, vocations, the arts, health, problems of social concern, and international relations. The program chairman and her committee plan programs, plays, skits, fashion shows, beauty demonstrations, and engage speakers. The big social events on every Y-Teen's calendar are the Touchdown Toddle, Spring Formal, Hallowe'en and Christmas parties.

A Y-Teen girl takes part in these and many more activities, which help to develop her personality and make her a better citizen. Mingling with girls her own age from the whole city or state give her ease and poise, and help to fit her for the problems of adult life.

—Lois Wise

SORELLE Y-TEEN CABINET

Officers of the Y-Teens are elected and installed in the spring, and registered in the Y-Teen office. Then the president and program chairman, or other duly elected delegates, may attend the all-state summer conference, in order to get new ideas for their club.

Early in the fall semester, and at regular intervals throughout the year, the cabinet meets. The secretary records all proceedings. The inter-club council representative keeps in touch with what other clubs are doing.

The cabinet is the nerve center of the Y-Teen organization. The success of the club depends largely on the close cooperation of its members.

The Y-Teen symbol is a triangle within a circle; the sides stand for body, mind and spirit; the circle represents the world of the Y-Teen which is ever growing. Our motto, "That We May Serve Others," ties up closely with the Y.W.C.A. symbol.

Tanda meets every two weeks. Belonging to this organization makes one a junior member of the community Y.W.C.A. and a member of the national and world Y.W.C.A. By correspondence, gifts, and our world fellowship program, we develop friendship with other races and creeds. We work for civic and national improvements.

Our program chairman has an important assignment in planning activities of varied interest. Mrs. Minola Mariner, a dietitian, gave a health and beauty talk. Miss Madeline Margo, Youth Consultant of Public Library, reviewed books for teenagers. Mr. Del Castle demonstrated popular dance steps. Movies and discussions of boy-girl relationships are included in the program which we hope will attract many Wilson girls. There is also an important social angle to our Y-Teen organization. The Touchdown Toddle held in November and the Spring Formal held in May, are two big occasions in any Y-Teen's social career. We shall never forget the fun we had at Wilson, especially in our Y-Teen group.

—Vera Dankovich

TANDA Y-TEEN CABINET

Each spring the Y-Teen clubs choose leaders for the succeeding year on the basis of leadership, personality and the ability to work with others. A nominating committee, working with the sponsors and Dean of Girls choose candidates. Then at a special meeting, voting takes place.

The president, who has the greatest responsibility, presides at each meeting and calls special ones. She works with the vice-president, secretary, treasurer and program chairman to plan general meetings, finances, service projects and social affairs. The success of the club each year is determined largely by the degree of cooperation in the Cabinet meetings.

The purpose of the Woodrow Wilson Hi-Y Club is "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian leadership." The red triangle, our symbol, stands for red-blooded service for others and for growth in body, mind, and spirit.

Only junior and senior boys are eligible for membership. They must have grades of C or better, and are elected by secret ballot each semester. They are initiated into the club at a dance held for the occasion.

Some outstanding speakers this year are Dr. Young, an authority on family life; and Clyde Osborne, secretary to Mayor Henderson, who gave us a better understanding of city government. The boys anticipate the annual Civic Day, when selected members take over the job of governing the city for a day.

Hi-Y programs emphasize training for citizenship. Boys who have worked, played and planned together are better able to carry the responsibilities of adult life. Hi-Y is also the foundation of many lasting friendships.

"Cheerleading Recipe"

How to Make a Cheerleader:

Procedure: Assemble all the upper grade Wilsonites in one large auditorium. Mix them together until in good spirits. Add candidates who have tried out for cheerleading. Next have all the students elect the best, to make the perfected product

The next step is to mix in trials with tribuations, throw in all the errors and mistakes, and make them come out oven fresh. Then proceed as follows

Take two Stilson brothers, one Paul Wackter, and a dash of Carol James, then mix well with Tina Parker. Add the spice of two whirling red skirts, seasoned with fluffy white satin blouses. Fold in many long hours of practice, with a generous portion of sore arms and muscles, until well mixed. Stir well with the student body. Test for being well done by a straw vote. Garnish with three "red hot" megaphones, flavored with a few somersaults, and cartwheels. Serve on a frosty night to a large crowd

To make this recipe extra good, add the Wilson Band, the majorettes and a few rousing cheers like "Go Wilson Go" or "Victory, Victory"; and will the spectators' eyes pop when they see the girls swing into "We've Got a T-E-A-M"!

The receipe was tested at the Wilson-East game and the results of the finished product were a tremendous amount of cheering by both students and faculty

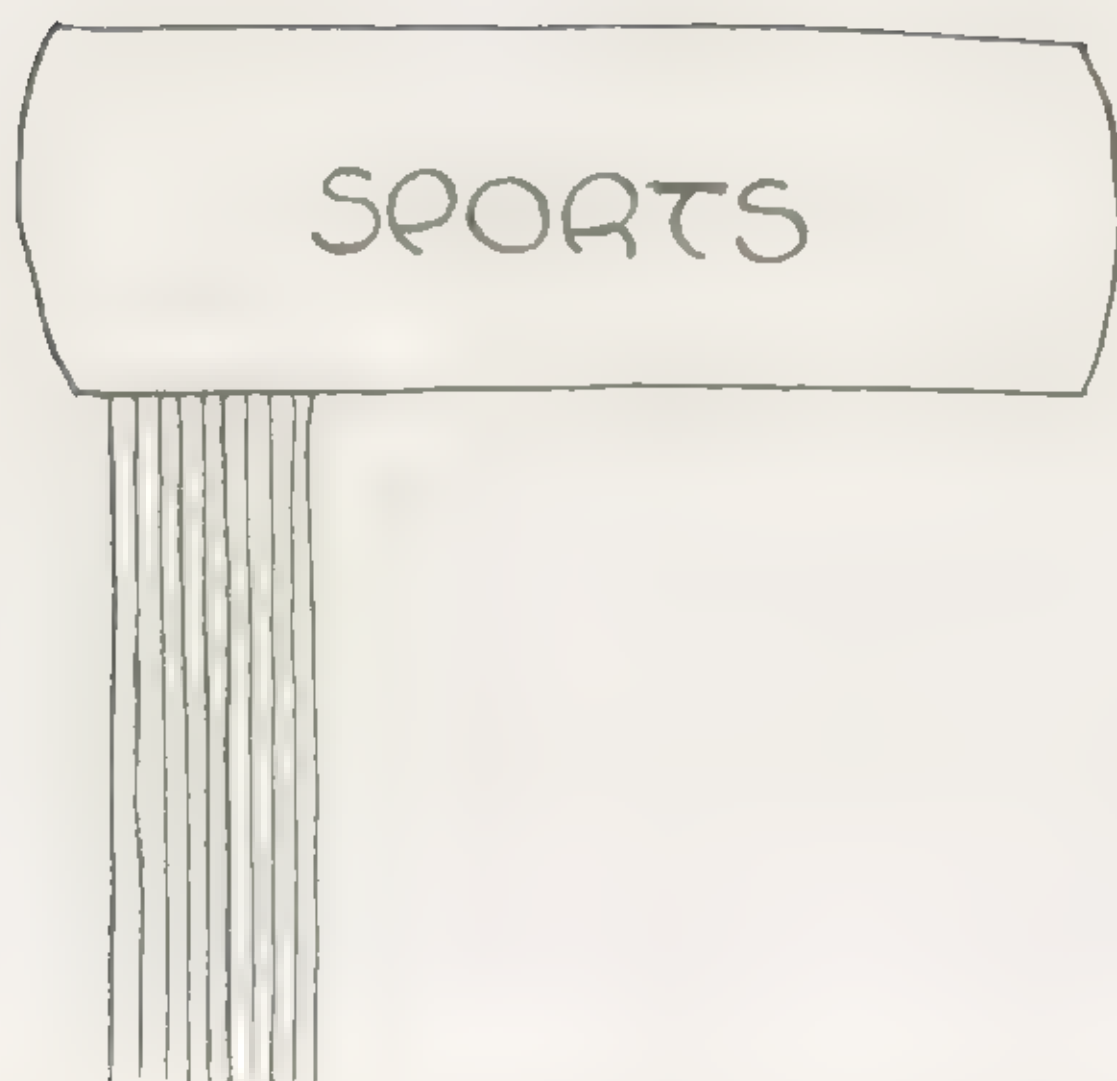

P.S. This recipe is also guaranteed to tickle the palate of both the young and old, to pep up the team for victory, and make the rooters bold

Behind every running machine, there must be an operator who sees to it that the machine runs smoothly and efficiently.

This is also true in athletics. In order to have a smooth running team, there must be someone behind the boys who can give them the incentive and "know how" which enable them to enter into competition with the confident feeling that they are ready to meet their rivals on equal terms. It is the coaches and other members of the athletic board who must shoulder this burden.

And so, to those on the coaching staff and athletic board, we, the student body, express our sincere thanks.

—Gene Helle

With a very successful season as a Junior High team behind them, the 1949 squad had high hopes for a like season with the varsity.

These hopes might well have been realized except for a lack of weight and of reserve strength. Injury, the bug-bear of all football teams, took its toll especially in the backfield. With the loss of both Tom Sovik and Harry Italiano early in the season, the backfield was considerably weakened and the attack was limited. What the squad lacked in weight, it made up in determination and enthusiasm.

Although the scores seem to indicate otherwise, the Presidents gave most of their opponents a good battle. The old spirit of "Never Say Die" was characterized by this team.

Only Wells, Cercone, DeCello, and Lucko will be lost by graduation. With another year of experience behind the team and another year's growth upon them, we all look forward to the 1950 season with anticipation. Let's go, Presidents!

In the opener against Campbell Memorial, the Wilson Presidents were outscored 32-0. The team played hard ball until the final whistle but the heavier Red Devils were too much for them. Wells, Larson and Foth were defensive standouts.

The Wilson Presidents threw a scare into the touted Canton Lehman Polar Bears. At the half Wilson walked off the field with a 7-0 lead. Canton's superior reserve strength and weight proved Wilson's downfall. The Bears emerged victorious but the Wilsonites shone even in defeat.

At kickoff Struthers started on an 85-yard run and netted a touchdown. Again they registered! Then intercepting a pass, Larson raced 47 yards to score for Wilson. Struthers retaliated and pushed ahead 19-6. In the second half Larson scored again, but the Wildcats made it 24-12 to take the game.

GIRARD 13

Wilson ended its victory famine by defeating Girard. Ronan smashed center for a touchdown in the first period but Girard led 13-6 at the half. With the second-half touchdowns of Bob Toth, Dick Shirilla, and Ray Larson, the Presidents emerged the victor. Wells and Lucko starred defensively.

EAST 19

Coach Mitchell's proteges gave the Eastsiders a busy evening throughout. Franko's accurate punts and the magnificent work of the whole line was commendable. When the contest ended Wilson had the ball on the East one-yard line.

SOUTH 25

In the traditional Wilson-South duel, Wilson made an impressive showing in the first half which ended 6-6 with Ronan scoring on a line plunge. The combination of Byrde, Humphrey, and Russo disorganized the Wilson defense in the second half and the Warriors took over 25-6.

RAYEN 32

As a result of fumbles and intercepted passes, Rayen was able to run up five touchdowns. In order to find a scoring combination Mr. Mitchell used all but four of the squad. Nudo's defensive work was outstanding.

URSULINE 20

The Wilson Presidents suffered a 20-0 defeat at the hands of Ursuline. Three trips were made into Irish territory, but each time they were repelled by the Irish defense. The absence of Wilson's star guard Lucko, impaired the Wilson attack.

Paul DeCello, C

CHANEY 19

The Presidents rang down the curtain with a loss to Chaney. Although the Wilson line was able to stop the Chaney ground attack, their aerials proved to be Wilson's downfall.

Filling "Brother" Well's shoes, Paul De Cello made an impressive showing. The absence of reserve back-field strength was keenly felt.

Ends—Thomas and Shirilla whose experience this year—their first with the varsity—should make them invaluable as pass receivers and score-getters next season.

Tackles—Nudo living up to his Junior High record as one of the strongest linemen and Bolkovac carrying out the family tradition of hard fighting.

Guards—Lucko and Cercone who developed this year into real varsity material. Their positions will be hard to fill.

Backs—Each of whom had a specialty—Franko, punting and passing; Ronan, line plunging; Larson, sprinting; Toth and Onderko, defensive play.

Centers—Wells, who rightly earned his place as All-City Center, was the line star. His sub, DeCello, turned in a good job whenever called upon.

The Wilson Bowling Team, coached by Mr. J. D. Strickler, had a good start in the Mahoning Valley Scholastic League. The first week of the season they jumped to first place with three wins, but after losing seven of their next nine games, the boys were in third place at the time of publication. The team is moving right along again and is hoping to take the championship. For the past two years Wilson has finished second.

Some of the high spots of the first weeks were: Ed Wall's 244 game, Bob Kucharski's 223, and Gene Shurilla's 264.

This promises to be one of the best teams the school has had.

Vice

The expert shooting of the team and the cagey coaching of Mr. Apuli enabled the Wilson High Golf Team to finish third in the City Series competition with a record of six wins, three losses, and a tie.

The Presidents placed third in the Youngstown District tournament with an all-team total of 368 and also third in the Yankee Run tournament.

Due to graduation, the 1950 team will be without the services of lettermen John Sefcik, Jack Moran, and Steve Horney.

Mr. Thompson, assuming the basketball reins from Mr. Mitchell received invaluable aid from our own former star Bob Gibson, who is serving his apprentice teaching at Wilson.

Building their team around the only returning veteran, six foot three Bill Yarb, they had a combination which was much tougher than the record of 5 wins and 11 losses shows.

Finding opposition particularly rough in City-Series play, the team ended up with no wins in that competition. Giving many teams a scare and a run for their money, the hoopsters showed flashes of speed and executed many fine plays perfected through hours of hard practice.

Steve "Blackie" Horney, who played good ball, was lost at mid-semester by graduation. Tom Sovik, the spark-plug of the team, not only was one of the high scorers but was outstanding in his floor work. Bill Yarb and Joe Check accounted for the rebounds. Strichek, Scavina, and all the rest of the squad who saw action cannot be passed by without mention for their good team work.

The same team returns to the court next year with the exception of Bill Yarb. With the Junior team sending up some valuable material to replace these veterans the scores next season should read differently.

Wilson at Play

There was fun for everyone at the football dance sponsored by the Mothers' Club on Family Night. Before the dance band swung into action Mr. Mitchell introduced the football squad to the enthusiastic crowd. Later in the evening our very popular Harold "Brother" Wells and lovely petite Virginia Marinelli were crowned king and queen of football. In behalf of the Mothers' Club Mrs. Elmer Fitch presented a beautiful bouquet of roses to our queen.

We, the students of Wilson, wish to take this opportunity to thank the Mothers' Club for the interest they have taken in the school throughout the years. Mrs. Simon Abey, president of the club and Miss Ruth Long, faculty advisor, deserve our very special thanks.

Although the '49 Junior Varsity season was a short one, it was an important one.

The team began the season with a 6-0 win over North. This victory stopped North's winning streak of six games. Wilson completely outclassed North but didn't reach paydirt until the third period when Ed Strichek took it over from the 10-yard line.

In the game against Rayen which Wilson also won, the team got their score early in the opening period. Wilson recovered a fumble on the Rayen 5. On the next play Jablonski went over for the touchdown. Wilson outplayed Rayen during the whole game but garnered only the one score.

When Jablonski intercepted a Chaney pass on the 50 and ran it back for a score, it looked as though the Vice-Presidents were going to make it three in a row. Chaney's passing attack then began to click. Final score, Wilson 6—Chaney 26.

—Bob Osiniak

Wilson Junior Varsity Basketball

The Wilson Junior High basketball team's record for this year was 4 victories out of 12 games. After beating Chaney in their first round, Wilson had a losing streak of 5 games until they met Chaney again. Defeating them again, Wilson went on to a winning streak of 3 games

Altho losing the majority of their games, the season's record shows that most of these losses were only by a few points. The "Juniors" showed considerable promise and should be on acquisition to the varsity next season

The high point men during the season were John Scavina, Tony DeAscentis, and Clarence Grosso, with nice defensive working being done by Jim Yurak and Bob Courtne. The loss of Jim Mauch to the Varsity and of Norman Vaughn because of illness was keenly felt

—Bob Osinnak

In Appreciation

We, the class of 1950, speak for the students and the faculty in extending our heartfelt thanks to everyone making our annual possible.

First, to our local merchants, go our thanks for their advertisements, also to Mr. Ted Wahl of the Cleveland Engraving Company, and to Samuel and Walker Company, printers for the Orion.

Next, we send our appreciation to Bill Abey of Abey Studios for his fine portraits and group pictures.

We are deeply grateful for the interest and helpfulness of the following teachers who were responsible for the supervision of special sections of the Orion:

Pictures—Miss Eckert, Miss Higley, Mr. Williamson, whose efficient work in arranging groups dispensed with confusion and loss of work time.

Senior Section—Miss Brungard and Miss Luebben, whose diligent efforts produced one of the most novel sections of the book.

Editorial—Miss Wike, who guided and assisted in making the Orion letter perfect.

Activities—Mrs. Brown, who so ably presented each club.

Sports—Miss Pierson, whose constant attendance at the games qualified her to expertly report on sports.

Art—Miss Hastings and Mr. McDonnell, whose contributions enhanced the arrangements within the book.

Business—Mr. Blausen, who made so lovely a book so economically available.

In closing, we hope that in some small way we have shown our appreciation for the loyal services of Miss Gerrity, our Orion advisor, and also to the students of the annual and business staffs.

—Elaine Horvat
